POSSIBILITY OF SUMMIT CONFERENCE

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower apparently believes that a summit conference late this year is a definite possibility.

Such a meeting would bring him and other Western government heads face-to-face with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev for a discussion of critical East-West issues. These undoubtedly would include questions of Germany and of disarmament.

Whether a conference is actually arranged probably will depend on whether East-West negotiations in the meantime ease Soviet pressures to get the United States, Britain and France out of West Berlin.

Eisenhower himself brought up the subject of a summit meeting briefly at his news conference Tuesday in discussing a question about the effect of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' illness on prospects for a foreign ministers meeting.

The President said he thought that Dulles' condition would not delay a foreign ministers conference, but noted that there has been no agreement with the Soviets yet on actually holding such a session. Then he added: "I believe the Russians themselves... more concerned, Mr. Khrushchev is concerned, in a heads of government meeting, as he calls an informal and without-an-agenda type."

"Well, that would take a great deal of preparation."

Soviet spokesmen, including Khrushchev and Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan have repeatedly called for a heads of government conference.

Mayor of West Berlin Pays Call On Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin said today President Eisenhower assured him "no Communist threat whatsoever" will force the United States out of that city.

The Social Democratic mayor issued a brief statement after spending nearly half an hour with Eisenhower.

"The President was glad to have my report on the situation in Berlin. He seemed pleased to hear that my fellow citizens are not in the least frightened by the renewed Communist threats against their city and that they are absolutely certain that the Western Allies will stand by them. The President gave me the firm assurance that the United States shall defend the people of free Berlin against any effort to destroy their freedom," the statement said.

"He added that no Communist threat whatsoever shall deter the United States from the discharge of its responsibilities to the people of Berlin and that the United States shall not be pushed out of free Berlin."

The other contestants will be princesses in the queen's court. Cochran Junior High School is the site for the contest.

Prisoner Paroled Following Unusual Risk Back in Pen

PITTSBURGH (AP)—While serving a 10-year prison term for bank robbery several years ago Ralph E. Richardson volunteered for a risky medical experiment.

He and two other inmates of the Federal Penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., were given injections of hepatitis virus which produces inflammation of the liver.

Two of the volunteers died. Richardson survived, but he was in a coma for weeks, developing both pneumonia and gangrene. His weight dropped from 210 to 145 pounds.

His story was told in a national magazine article. He was rewarded with a parole in 1957 after serving half of his sentence for

Governor Gears Spending Program With Anticipated Budget of $21,250,000,000

By RICHARD L. GRAVES
HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence today geared his budget-making schedule to a March 2 target date for presentation of a spending program expected to approach the $21,250,000,000 mark.

But he emphasized that the budget will hinge on a tax program to finance it.

"We can't intelligently move into action on a budget without knowing what revenue we will have," Lawrence told his first news conference since he took office Jan. 20.

He declined to speculate to newsmen Tuesday on an overall budget figure or what specific taxes would be recommended to fill an expected gap of some 400 million dollars between 1959-61 needs and present revenues.

He said he did not want to "make any commitment on any phase of the tax program" for fear it would affect the planning of his bipartisan Tax Study Committee.

Lawrence was thoroughly at ease in his first formal meeting with Capitol Hill newsmen. He rocked in a huge swivel chair behind a broad desk. Newsmen were ringed around him. He answered questions quickly and positively.

Though he said he hoped for a unanimous report from his tax advisory group, he gave newsmen a flat "no" when asked if he would give a blanket endorsement to such a report.

He answered questions on these subjects:

Furman-Torquato—There would be top-level places in his administration soon for former Lt. Gov. Roy E. Furman and John R. Torquato, Cambria County Democratic chairman and former labor and industry secretary.

Highways—Highways Secretary Park H. Martin has been ordered to review a five-year priority allocation for federal interstate road construction.

An objective, the governor said, would be to see what can be done about adding the Anthracite Expressway and the Erie-Pittsburgh Freeway to the priority list. A previous report did not list the two proposed projects on the basis that other roads were more justified traffic-wise.

Flood relief—Lawrence said he would go to Washington Feb. 26 to join with the Pennsylvania Congressional delegation in drafting a federal flood relief program for this state.

Turnpike Commission—No promises of patronage were made to Senate Republicans in exchange for the rapid approval of Joseph J. Lawler's appointment to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

McCartney delay—Lawrence said he hasn't heard a thing about the delay by the Senate GOP caucus in approving the appointment of Frank McCartney, Lansford, as state police commissioner.

Lincoln Birthday No Holiday in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Parking meters bear signs which say motorists do not have to deposit money on legal holidays. Abraham Lincoln's birthday is a legal holiday.

But the city's law department says this applies only to the legal holidays created by City Council for "parking purposes."

The Council, in revising the traffic code last Dec. 22, neglected to list Lincoln's birthday as a legal parking holiday. Police were told to ticket cars which park at meters without depositing coins.

BOSTON, Mass.—At a special meeting here today, share owners of Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., voted approval of the merger of Sylvania into General Telephone Corporation.

Concurrently in New York, share owners of General Telephone also approved the merger.

Sylvania will continue to operate as a separate company, wholly-owned by General Telephone and Electronics Corporation.

Proxy statements of the two companies state that advantages to Sylvania of the proposed merger include: increased ability to finance future development, further diversification of Sylvania's products due to research efforts of the companies, availability of General's experience and background in foreign manufacturing and sales, financial stability afforded by telephone operations of General, and the ability to serve better the national defense effort.

Increased diversification of investment, substantially increased research and development facilities, a source of know-how in areas of electronic development which may prove of importance to telephone and communications industry generally and which will enable General system to provide better phone service to the public, and the ability to serve better national defense efforts were cited as advantages to General from the merger.

Women Convicted Of Vice Charges In New York City

NEW YORK (AP)—Former schoolteacher Virginia McManus and a madam friend have been convicted on vice charges after a trial in Women's Court.

Miss McManus, 25 and blonde, and Mrs. Beatrice Garfield, 29, are being held in the Women's House of Detention pending sentencing Feb. 25.

The two women were found guilty Tuesday by Magistrate Hyman Bushel on charges stemming from their arrest in a police raid early last Friday on Mrs. Garfield's $350-a-month apartment. Police said the apartment was the center of operation of 15 to 20 call girls who grossed about $400 each a night.

Miss McManus and Mrs. Garfield were found guilty of loitering for the purposes of prostitution. Mrs. Garfield also was convicted of permitting her apartment to be used for prostitution. The maximum sentence on either conviction is three years.

Miss McManus was acquitted on prostitution charges last October. Miss McManus represented herself as an accredited schoolteacher and a graduate literature student after she came here from Chicago. She got a part-time teaching job at a Brooklyn high school at $4,400 a year. She lost the job after her first arrest.

Constitution For Cyprus Is Approved

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)—Greece and Turkey agreed today on a proposed constitution for an independent Cyprus and prepared to ask Britain to approve it.

Prime Ministers Constantine Karamanlis of Greece and Adnan Menderes of Turkey, meeting in the final session of their conference here, approved the draft prepared by their foreign ministers in the five days of bargaining.

An end at last appeared in sight to the long and bitter dispute over the British island colony in the Mediterranean, off the south coast of Turkey.

Turkish Foreign Minister Fatih Rustu Zorlu said the agreement would strengthen the Western alliance.

Zorlu and Greek Foreign Minister Evangelos Averoff prepared to fly to London to submit the proposed constitution to British Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd.

In the British capital, a Foreign Office spokesman said Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government wholeheartedly welcomed the news. British officials would not comment further until they had studied the constitution in detail. But London's approval was considered certain since Greece and Turkey had agreed, and since the constitution guarantees Britain will retain the big military bases she has established on Cyprus.

News of the agreement also heartened all other members of the North Atlantic Alliance. Greece and Turkey form NATO's eastern anchor, and the Cyprus fight had halted cooperation between them for several years.

Sub-Freezing Weather Stems Flood Threat

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Sub-freezing temperatures appeared today to have stemmed the threat of new floods in northwestern Pennsylvania communities hit hard last month.

Most streams in the area held steady or crested below flood stage after rising swiftly Tuesday in the wake of heavy rains and spring-like temperatures.

However, the Shenango River at Sharon continued to inch higher early today and went slightly over the 13½ foot flood stage. Several streets in low-lying areas near the river were inundated, but no serious damage resulted.

New Freedom of Press Bill Is Before Senate

HARRISBURG (AP)—Radio and television newsmen could refuse to identify their sources of information under a bill in position today for final Senate action.

Sen. John T. Van Sant (R-Lehigh) introduced the bill Monday. The Senate Law and Order Committee sent the bill to the floor Tuesday for action, probably next week.

The bill extends a 1937 law which gives newspaper men immunity from prosecution for refusing to identify their news sources.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower journeyed toward an Arizona vacation today after a send-off from the whole Eisenhower family.

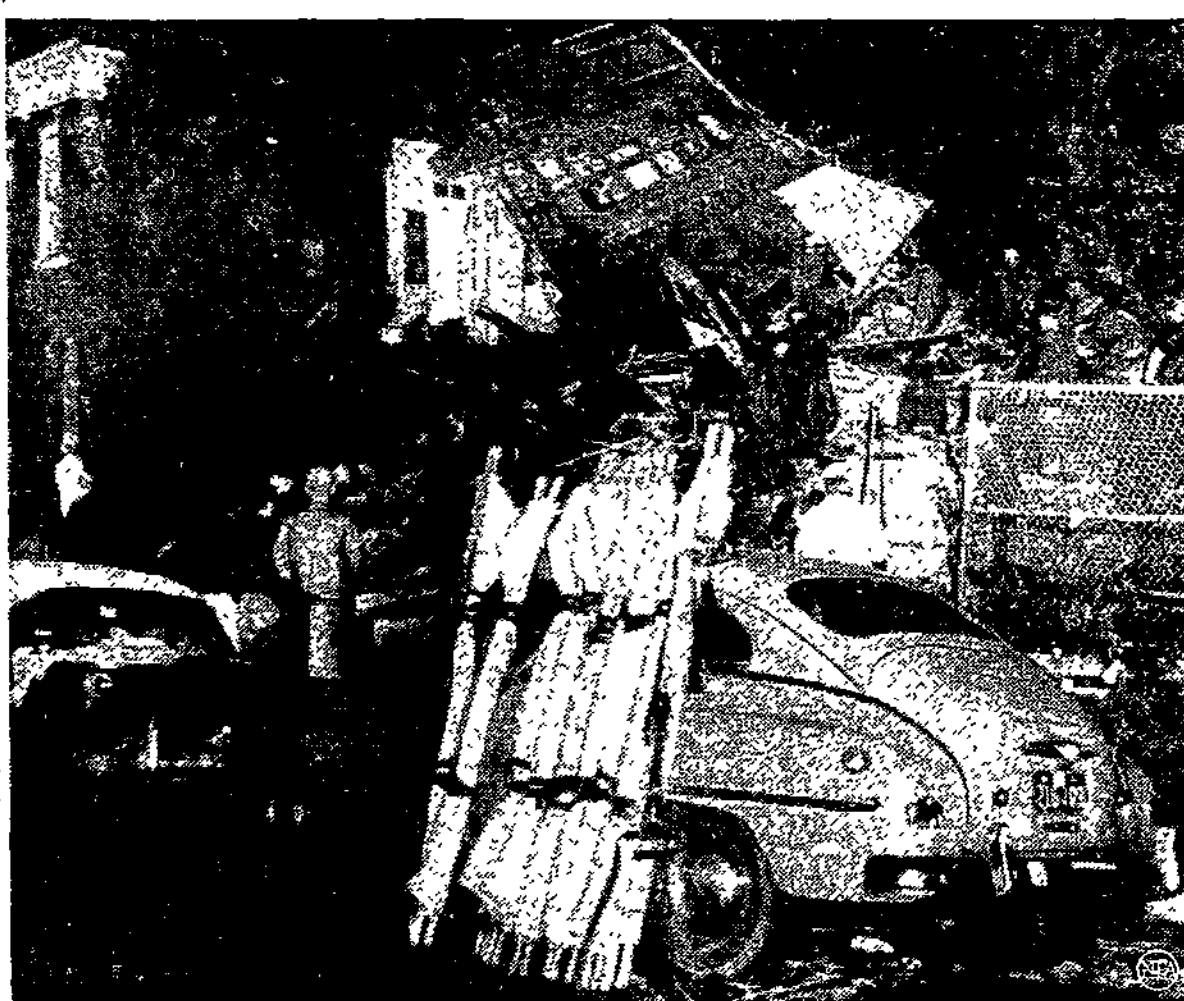

Mrs. Eisenhower and her sister, Mrs. George Gordon Moore, left Tuesday night aboard a Southern Railroad private Pullman for a visit to a health and beauty resort near Phoenix.

Before the train pulled out, Eisenhower and the Eisenhowers' son, daughter-in-law and four grandchildren boarded the car to say farewell to the first lady.

Mrs. Eisenhower and her sister are due in New Orleans at 8:50 p. m. today and reportedly plan to arrive at Phoenix Sunday for a two-week stay.

A short time before Mrs. Eisenhower left, the White House said the President may fly to Augusta, Ga., for a weekend of golf immediately following his talks with Mexico's President Adolfo Lopez Mateos at Acapulco, Mexico, next week.

Senators Receiving Pinball Education

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some senators are receiving their pinball education. The Senate Labor-Management Committee probe of the pinball industry features demonstrations.

Washington Attorney Rufus King removed the glass from one machine to show how it could be rigged so that the odds were 200 to 1 against winning. Sen. Frank Church (D-Idaho) strode up to try. He lost.

Winter's Most Violent Weather Appears Easing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The most violent weather of winter eased today but the damaging and crippling effects of the storms were far from erased in many parts of the eastern half of the country.

As storms ended or diminished in most areas, floods or threats of new overflows harassed areas in a half dozen states.

In St. Louis, hit by a killer tornado, the huge job of cleaning up was one of the major problems. Another was the finding of new homes for the estimated 1,400 made homeless by the twister.

The tornado, striking early Tuesday, killed at least 21 persons. Seven others are missing. Of the estimated 300 persons injured, 70 remained in hospitals, one in critical condition. Some (Turn to Page Sixteen)

Racket Influence Is Reported in Juke Box Industry

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Labor-Management Committee, continuing its probe of the juke box industry today, is looking into evidence that gangsters sometimes try to force certain singers on the public.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said he expects, before he is through, to produce evidence hoodlums have muscled in on juke box record distributing firms with the idea of pushing these singers.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) has predicted the inquiry will show a sinister combine of top underworld figures and corrupt labor union officials has tried to put the juke box, pinball, and vending machine business in cities from New York to Denver under its iron rule.

Kennedy named among today's witnesses John Vitale of St. Louis; Raymond Patriarca of Providence, R.I.; Frank Zito of Springfield, Mass. (Turn to Page Sixteen)

Whole Family Gives Mamie Farewell Sendoff

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower journeyed toward an Arizona vacation today after a send-off from the whole Eisenhower family.

St. Louis, Mo. (AP)—"They are doing the best they can and are very nice to us. But anybody would rather be in their own home."

Gertrude Watson, who expressed these sentiments, was one of the comparatively few victims of Tuesday's tornado who took advantage of four shelters set up for the homeless.

She and her six children, ranging in age up to 12, were grouped on cots in a warm basement. Red Cross volunteers were ready to staff the shelters, but they outnumbered those who sought refuge. Most of the homeless moved in with relatives or friends.

As a radio at a far end of the basement blared a report on the tornado, Mrs. Watson told how their upstairs living quarters collapsed. Four of the children were slightly injured.

At another shelter in the Galilee Church, Nine Mae Winters and her daughter, Mary Lee, 11, sat down to a meal with eight or nine other storm refugees.

"We're grateful to be out of the cold and to be alive," Mrs. Winters said. Their home was demolished.

The area of the worst devastation had a deserted appearance today. Some of the streets were barricaded.

Police Chief Jeremiah O'Connell issued blunt orders: Stay out unless your business is urgent.

Second Flood in Month Menacing Cities in Ohio

By ROBERT L. SHAFFER
FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—The ice-choked Sandusky River threatened this city and its 16,000 citizens today.

It was the hardest hit of Ohio's northern cities in new floods that struck for the second time in less than a month.

There was a foot more water than in the flood which coursed through the city three weeks ago. Fremont still is in a state of emergency from that disaster. There are business places advertising "flood sales" from the January destruction.

An estimated 1,000 Fremont residents were forced to evacuate their homes Tuesday and early today. Another 200 to 500 evacuees still are homeless from the first flood. The river was out of its (Turn to Page Sixteen)

Hagerty Says Ike Planning On Return of Sec. Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP)—"That's cockeyed."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty gave that reply Tuesday night when asked about reports President Eisenhower is concerned over the possibility that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles may not be able to resume his duties.

DAMAGE IS ESTIMATED $12,000,000

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The death toll from the tornado that hit this sleeping city with explosive force early Tuesday stood at 21 today. Officials said there is reason to hope it will go no higher.

Seventy injured remained in hospitals.

The extent of the havoc wrought by the twister in the teeming central portion of the city brought surprise that the loss of life was no greater.

"The reports on missing persons is a bit cloudy but we can't find out for sure that anybody's missing," said Brig. Gen. Francis P. Hardaway (Ret.), Civil Defense director. "There are many conflicting reports."

Firemen resumed digging into wreckage of a three-story house where eight died at the corner of Whittier and Delmar.

The last of the 21 dead was identified as Mrs. Zulu Brown, 42. Her husband, Fred, just barely got out of the collapsing structure with their son.

The emotion-packed scenes among relatives identifying their dead left officials at the city morgue shaken. "People just don't know what I've been through," said Dave Lamb, morgue superintendent.

Relief workers still are measuring dimensions of the misery inflicted by the twister. The Red Cross estimated 1,400 homeless in St. Louis and the county.

The Insurance Board of St. Louis said 4,000 buildings were damaged at a loss of 12 million dollars.

President Eisenhower declared the stricken city a disaster area, making it eligible for federal relief funds.

The tornado first touched down with minor damage in Brentwood, a West St. Louis suburb. Then it (Turn to Page Sixteen)

Child Says She And Brother Spent Yule in Chains

LILLINGTON, N.C. (AP)—A 12-year-old girl testified Tuesday that she and her younger brother and sister spent Christmas in chains.

The children's father, Russell Allen, a Harnett County Negro farmer, was sentenced to six years in prison by County Recorder's Court Judge Robert B. Morgan. Allen was charged with willful neglect and assault.

The children, Mary Lee, 12; Geraldine, 10; and Jerry, 8, were found in chains at the home last week.

The father said he chained the children to keep them from running loose.

Irene Geddie, who lives in the same small house with her 10 children, was sentenced to two years for aiding and abetting in the mistreatment of the youngsters.

The Allen children are in the custody of the Welfare Department.

But London's approval was considered certain since Greece and Turkey had agreed, and since the constitution guarantees Britain will retain the big military bases she has established on Cyprus.

Winter's Most Violent Weather Appears Easing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The most violent weather of winter eased today but the damaging and crippling effects of the storms were far from erased in many parts of the eastern half of the country.

As storms ended or diminished in most areas, floods or threats of new overflows harassed areas in a half dozen states.

In St. Louis, hit by a killer tornado, the huge job of cleaning up was one of the major problems. Another was the finding of new homes for the estimated 1,400 made homeless by the twister.

The tornado, striking early Tuesday, killed at least 21 persons. Seven others are missing.

Of the estimated 300 persons injured, 70 remained in hospitals, one in critical condition. Some (Turn to Page Sixteen)

Whole Family Gives Mamie Farewell Sendoff

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower journeyed toward an Arizona vacation today after a send-off from the whole Eisenhower family.

Mrs. Eisenhower and her sister, Mrs. George Gordon Moore, left Tuesday night aboard a Southern Railroad private Pullman for a visit to a health and beauty resort near Phoenix.

Before the train pulled out, Eisenhower and the Eisenhowers' son, daughter-in-law and four grandchildren boarded the car to say farewell to the first lady.

Mrs. Eisenhower and her sister are due in New Orleans at 8:50 p. m. today and reportedly plan to arrive at Phoenix Sunday for a two-week stay.

A short time before Mrs. Eisenhower left, the White House said the President may fly to Augusta, Ga., for a weekend of golf immediately following his talks with Mexico's President Adolfo Lopez Mateos at Acapulco, Mexico, next week.

Second Flood in Month Menacing Cities in Ohio

By ROBERT L. SHAFFER
FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—The ice-choked Sandusky River threatened this city and its 16,000 citizens today.

It was the hardest hit of Ohio's northern cities in new floods that struck for the second time in less than a month.

There was a foot more water than in the flood which coursed through the city three weeks ago. Fremont still is in a state of emergency from that disaster. There are business places advertising "flood sales" from the January destruction.

An estimated 1,000 Fremont residents were forced to evacuate their homes Tuesday and early today. Another 200 to 500 evacuees still are homeless from the first flood. The river was out of its (Turn to Page Sixteen)

Racket Influence Is Reported in Juke Box Industry

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Labor-Management Committee, continuing its probe of the juke box industry today, is looking into evidence that gangsters sometimes try to force certain singers on the public.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said he expects, before he is through, to produce evidence hoodlums have muscled in on juke box record distributing firms with the idea of pushing their singers.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) has predicted the inquiry will show a sinister combine of top underworld figures and corrupt labor union officials has tried to put the juke box, pinball, and vending machine business in cities from New York to Denver under its iron rule.

Kennedy named among today's witnesses John Vitale of St. Louis; Raymond Patriarca of Providence, R.I.; Frank Zito of Springfield, Mass.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Two members of a legislative committee that will investigate the Pittston mine disaster said today it may take as long as two weeks before actual hearings get under way.

DAMAGE IS ESTIMATED $12,000,000

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The death toll from the tornado that hit this sleeping city with explosive force early Tuesday stood at 21 today. Officials said there is reason to hope it will go no higher.

Seventy injured remained in hospitals.

The extent of the havoc wrought by the twister in the teeming central portion of the city brought surprise that the loss of life was no greater.

"The reports on missing persons is a bit cloudy but we can't find out for sure that anybody's missing," said Brig. Gen. Francis P. Hardaway (Ret.), Civil Defense director. "There are many conflicting reports."

Firemen resumed digging into wreckage of a three-story house where eight died at the corner of Whittier and Delmar.

The last of the 21 dead was identified as Mrs. Zulu Brown, 42. Her husband, Fred, just barely got out of the collapsing structure with their son.

The emotion-packed scenes among relatives identifying their dead left officials at the city morgue shaken. "People just don't know what I've been through," said Dave Lamb, morgue superintendent.

Relief workers still are measuring dimensions of the misery inflicted by the twister. The Red Cross estimated 1,400 homeless in St. Louis and the county.

The Insurance Board of St. Louis said 4,000 buildings were damaged at a loss of 12 million dollars.

President Eisenhower declared the stricken city a disaster area, making it eligible for federal relief funds.

The tornado first touched down with minor damage in Brentwood, a West St. Louis suburb. Then it (Turn to Page Sixteen)

Child Says She And Brother Spent Yule in Chains

LILLINGTON, N.C. (AP)—A 12-year-old girl testified Tuesday that she and her younger brother and sister spent Christmas in chains.

The children's father, Russell Allen, a Harnett County Negro farmer, was sentenced to six years in prison by County Recorder's Court Judge Robert B. Morgan. Allen was charged with willful neglect and assault.

The children, Mary Lee, 12; Geraldine, 10; and Jerry, 8, were found in chains at the home last week.

The father said he chained the children to keep them from running loose.

Irene Geddie, who lives in the same small house with her 10 children, was sentenced to two years for aiding and abetting in the mistreatment of the youngsters.

The Allen children are in the custody of the Welfare Department.

Hagerty Says Ike Planning On Return of Sec. Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP)—"That's cockeyed."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty gave that reply Tuesday night when asked about reports President Eisenhower is concerned over the possibility that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles may not be able to resume his duties.

The reports came from Republican congressional sources after Dulles entered Walter Reed Hospital for a hernia operation and treatment of a recurring intestinal inflammation.

Hagerty also scoffed at other reports that Eisenhower is giving serious consideration to a possible successor to Dulles.

Along the same line, an influential GOP official came away from the White House with a report he was convinced that every member of the President's official family expects Dulles to recover rather swiftly.

At Walter Reed, Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, the surgeon who will operate on Dulles, said the hernia operation will be a simple one. He predicted the 70-year-old Cabinet member will be on his feet a short time later.

Despite official denials, however, speculation was reported (Turn to Page Sixteen)

Under the proposals, included in a package of five bills, officers of counties, townships, third class cities and boroughs would be allowed to acquire by purchase or gift any "ancient landmarks and other property of historical or antiquarian interest."

Glade Run Flood Control Project Is Progressing

A report received from Harrisburg states that surveys advancing the time of actual construction of Glade Run flood control project in Warren are being made by the State Department of Forests and Waters, with a crew completing establishment of definite limits and staking out the course of a levee to be built on the right bank of Glade Run over a distance of 3,340 feet.

Clifford H. McConnell, division of Flood Control chief, says the survey will be completed in a few days opening the way to final design preparation. Once this phase has been accomplished, the department may request construction bids. The department head states that it was impossible at the present time to determine how long it will take to complete the final design.

In addition to construction of the levee, the stream channel will be widened and built of concrete over a distance of 683 feet in the Pennsylvania bridge area. The levee will extend upstream beginning at the end of channel construction. Local officials have agreed to provide rights of way and easements required for construction of the project.

The department estimated the cost of the flood control measure at $246,000 to be paid from funds allocated to the State Council of Civil Defense for flood control projects. Construction of the Glade Run project will protect Warren's eastern section from floods in the future.

Police Department Reports Busy Month

During the month of January, 1959, Warren Borough Police Department reported 349 arrests; 20 for parking violations; 11 traffic arrests; 11 violations of borough ordinances; 4 Commonwealth cases and 10 investigations.

There were no fatal injuries; 9 non-fatal injuries with a total of 15 accidents investigated. Operator injured totaled 3; passengers, 6; pedestrians numbered zero. Property damage was reported in the amount of $8,227.00 and fines collected totaled $320.00. The dog pound yielded $4.00; bicycle licenses numbered zero. Parking meter collections brought in $1,562.34 and licenses issued by the burgess realized $80.00.

In the line of duty Warren police handled some 193 requests for information and answered 109 calls. Minor investigations totaled 8; major investigations, 2. Twelve police officers guarded money in transit, the same number responding to fire calls. Fifty-four doors were found open or unlocked and one funeral escort requested. Three dogs were humanely disposed of and thirty transients or over-night lodgers accommodated.

Six street lights failed to operate properly and 15 accidents were investigated. Borough police put in 8 court appearances but were required to attend no justice hearings.

Flood and Snow Keep Park Dep't On Jump

Snow has been removed from walks of all parks, playgrounds, bridges and the Municipal building with walks sanded twice during the month of January, according to an official report from the Warren borough Park department.

Considerable time was spent in barnacding and sandbagging specific areas during the flood with manpower made available to pump flood waters and restore equipment in basements of hard-hit homes after the flood subsided.

Beaty Ice Rink was put out of commission by the flood but the Park department has been attempting to maintain skating conditions on the field itself. Some 10,000 skaters enjoyed the 19 skating days in January.

Public Works Dep't. Report for January

Borough Public Works department officials report that most labor used during the month of January was devoted to cleaning ice and snow from streets and on flood recovery. The department used 46 tons of salt; 10 tons of chloride and 240 cubic yards cinders.

Sanitary sewers cleaned averaged 2580 inches with 208 weighs on scales. The airport was plowed four times, but it is noted that immediate damage and repairs resulting from the recent flood took practically all available time and has not permitted the start of cleaning sewers partially plugged due to the flood.

Obvious work will be undertaken as soon as the department has fulfilled initial obligations.

Lincoln Vignettes --- (6)

Lincoln's policy toward the Confederacy is best illustrated by his Second Inaugural speech—"with malice toward none..."

Lincoln put his words into practice. After Richmond fell, he visited the city and looked up the home of Gen. George Pickett, the southern hero of Gettysburg. In small ways like this did Lincoln restore the Union.

At a celebration the night the war ended, Lincoln listened to the band play a number of patriotic airs. When they were finished, he said: "Play 'Dixie' now. It's ours."

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone

comments of a Pavement Plato:

America seems to have lost one of its safety-valves — the old-fashioned Sunday afternoon nap.

It is hard to say just when civilization went astray in our country. Some say it happened right after the first World War when the Russians embraced communism and the Americans adopted prohibition.

Some date it from the time when U. S. women were given the ballot and also started smoking cigarettes in public. Still others claim civilization died with the five-cent glass of beer.

But a good case could be made for the contention that civilized living began to decline when the average man gave up his Sunday afternoon nap and took up Sunday driving. Life has been one mad whirl ever since.

The old-fashioned Sunday afternoon nap in most homes was a ceremony as full of ritual as a lodge meeting.

It started with a massive Sunday dinner, a loving work of art that took mother all morning to prepare. This was served promptly at two o'clock.

After a meal that would fell three of today's modest trench-ermen, the head of the house would push back his chair, yawn and say, "Well, guess it's time for the nap."

He would go into his bedroom, and when he took off his shoes

you could hear his sigh of relief all through the house. In taking off his shoes father symbolically

was saying, "I'm home."

He would then lie down, and when he woke up, he would find himself in a state of complete

A WAY TO RAISE THE FLAG

It has been said, and perhaps in all seriousness, that a man who can edit a newspaper can do most anything. We would be about the last person to take exception to this statement, personally, even though we can think of some who might.

But, whatever the fact, we intend to make some observances on February 11th of the birthday of a young editor who made good in various other directions. He was Thomas Alva Edison, who was born in Milan, O., 112 years ago and removed at a tender age to Port Huron, Mich., where he engaged in a composite career of railroading, science and newspaper work.

While his job as train butcher required him to sell newspapers, among other things, he decided also to publish one of his own. This was The Weekly Herald, which he edited and printed weekly in the freight car in which he had set up his first experimental laboratory. However, what might have been a brilliant newspaper career was derailed when 15-year-old Tom Edison saved a station-master's child from the train wheels and was rewarded by being made a pupil at the railroad telegraph office in Mount Clemens.

The rest of the Edison story is pretty familiar—how invention and experimentation won out over telegraphy, and the former editor of The Weekly Herald went on to invent the incandescent lamp—and most of the things that, in their ultimate development, are keeping most of us up all hours of the night.

But for the curiosity of Tom Edison and his determination to find out the why of things, we might still be living a relatively simple life, going to bed early, listening to music when the Firemen's Band gave a concert. Husbands would be doing their work largely with hand tools, wives would be plying the broom and dustpan and rubbing out the family laundry on the washboard. Yet, not even those who sigh for the good old days would care to undertake their share of the manual labor involved.

Today, the inquiring mind and driving spirit of Thomas A. Edison are projected in the extensive research laboratories that serve the 31 divisions and subsidiaries of the McGraw-Edison Company. Here, hundreds of scientists, imbued with the Edison credo that there is always more to learn and "a way to do it better", are doing their best to make the jet age seem as outmoded as the world on which the young train butcher reported in The Weekly Herald of 1862.

If there is ever to be a national holiday to memorialize Progress, we suggest it be February 11.

WASHINGTON (AP) — You think you're confused? Wait till you read this.

President Eisenhower has protested repeatedly against what he calls the spenders and demands that Congress stay within the 77-billion-dollar budget he set up in January.

Just as a starter on how things are getting mixed up: Congress can ignore his requests for economy and vote far more money than he asked. On the other hand, in some cases he doesn't have to spend it even if Congress votes it.

And some of what's voted this year may be meant for spending couple of years from now: here's a big difference between appropriations and expenditures. The Eisenhower barbs about penders apparently nettled Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, leader of the Senate Democrats. This week he said that over the past six years Congress appropriated 2 billion dollars less than Eisenhower's budgets asked.

Whereupon Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, leader of the Senate Republicans, announced Eisenhower administration is getting together the full story, including "everything relating to the budget," and that he'd reduce it.

It's a good guess that when the two leaders and all the other democrats and Republicans get rough arguing about the figures, of only the general public but perhaps most members of Congress will be more bemused than before.

priations committees were created to examine money requests from the executive branch of the government and decide what's needed. But those committees are not the only ones passing on money problems.

Eisenhower's budget, for instance, contains all kinds of requests for money in one form or another. The whole budget is not solely the Appropriations committees' baby. Some parts of it go to other committees.

Who gets what depends on the nature of what is asked. Say the Senate Banking Committee comes up with a housing program that requires government backing. There are various kinds of housing in the program: one may deal with college housing, another with slum clearance.

Because one program requires a certain kind of action and money, the Senate Banking Committee handles it. But another, requiring different handling and financing, will go from the Banking Committee to the Appropriations Committee.

Then there's this case: The Appropriations Committee will approve a certain budget expenditure which is really an authorization to the Eisenhower administration to draw a check on the Treasury and spend the money this year.

Then the same committee may approve authorization for the government to obligate itself to spend money in a future year, but not this one or the next. For example: authority to make a contract to build a missile which won't be ready till 1962.

And the money Eisenhower requested in the budget he sent Congress in January is not the only money Congress will vote this year. Last June, for instance, Congress may have voted money to carry a government agency through till next June.

But now the same agency comes back, saying what it got (Turn to Page Five).

Do you like rhododendrons? Azeleas? And did you ever think you'd like to perk up the ornamental plantings around your home with these colorful plants? If you did, and want to learn all about these plants that can provide year 'round beauty, and require comparatively little care, except for their sometimes fussy water requirements, all you need do is send for a brand-new correspondence course called "Rhododendrons, Azeleas and Related Plants." The course of four lessons, prepared by W. L. Haldeman, instructor in agricultural extension, at The Pennsylvania State University, tells about the plants in the group how, when and where to plant them, and how to properly care for them after they're planted. The complete course, including expert correction and grading of lessons and postage, can be obtained by sending one dollar to Correspondence Courses, 202 Agricultural Education Building, University Park, Pa. A bulletin telling of 64 other courses in agriculture and home economics is free. Ask for it!

Ever wonder about the hunting and fishing possibilities of our 49th State? For one night only, Tues. Feb. 17, at the Beaty High-School auditorium sportsmen not only will hear authoritative answers on Alaskan wildlife, they will see a living-color drama on America's last frontier—Alaska. Appearing in person under auspices of the Warren Field & Stream Club, veteran Alaskan guide and Disney photographer Cecil Rhode will personally narrate the pair of unbelievable wildlife films he was four years in the making—"Alaska Afield." This is another of the famous Wally Taber Safari-Saga series," Bud Jones, sponsoring club president, said. "Rhode is Taber's latest associate. As with the adventure films for which Taber has become justly famous, Rhode's will be wholesome, whole-family entertainment popularly priced for whole family attendance." "I've seen many Alaskan films, even shot a few of my own," Taber advised, "But I have yet to see anything the equal of Cecil Rhode's. You'll go away talking, thinking and dreaming Alaska, probably feeling an authority yourself." "Repeatedly, Rhode will put the whole audience within horn-shaking distance of Alaska's biggest, her most dangerous and most illustrious," Rothman promised. "Moose as big as the screen will permit snort into battle; grizzly bear with reckless abandon dive, swim and chase after salmon; elusive white-mountain sheep and goat play hide-and-seek with the audience... In short," Rothman advised, "Rhode's is an unforgettable drama of Alaskan wildlife in color, close-up and authoritatively narrated by the man who was there, the man who made the pictures." For 25 years, Cecil Rhode has resided on the Kenai Peninsula south of the famed city of Anchorage. His residence is a log cabin; his address, Moose Pass, Alaska. He has watched Alaska grow into adulthood. For to the native Alaskan, moose meat and salmon are staples, not oddities. "My wife can salmon and she can moose," Rhode pointed out, "if she didn't, we'd go hungry a lot of the time, for ours is a wilderness existence with butcher shops far removed." As with all Wally Taber Safari Sagas, Rhode has achieved the ultimate in wildlife photography. His homespun philosophy about Alaska's denizens and his colorful photography combine to provide entertainment seldom achieved. "The Warren Field & Stream Club takes pride in offering this unusual, wholesome, whole-family entertainment at popular, tax-free prices. Advance tickets are available from local sporting goods stores and from club members. Show time eight p. m.

Saturday will be Valentine Day. Associated closely with it are various representations of the heart, the lasting symbol of warmth, affection, good will and love. Figuratively, the heart is regarded as the source of the warm qualities that make people human beings with kindness and consideration. Technically, we know that the heart, that rather small pulsating muscle, is the mechanism that keeps us alive, the pump-house and powerhouse of our bodies. Heart disease is the great crippler and the great killer. It is no respecter of age or any other standard. Of the 877,000 people who died of diseases of the heart and blood vessels in 1957, about 25 percent were in the 45-to-64-year age group, the so-called prime of life from a business standpoint. And death of heart illness may come to the tension-ridden executive just as much as to the man who makes his livelihood by hard and exhausting physical labor. Obviously, much has been done in the continuing battle against heart trouble. Much remains to be done but only through expanded scientific research. As the eminent heart doctor, Dr. Paul Dudley White—who has taken care of President Eisenhower and who has also spoken here—puts it: "With adequate support to heart research," there will be a noticeable decline in heart diseases within the next decade among the young and the middle-aged. So, support the Heart Fund this month.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The ups and downs of the stock market command more attention today as the business recovery teeters on the edge of another possible boom to be sparked perhaps by new inflation.

The market may mirror each day's quota of news. But in the background are some cold statistics about the market itself.

Prices of many stocks rose to record highs, before the business recovery really got off the ground. The average yield on the dividend-paying common stocks listed on the big board dropped to the second lower figure since 1940 when the statistics were first compiled by the New York Stock Exchange.

For the first time in 12 years, cash dividends paid on listed common stocks failed to set a new annual high. The majority of companies are reporting earnings lower than in 1957, despite some notable rebounds in the final months of 1958.

This might have sparked more interest in bonds, government and corporate, that yield as much or more. But it didn't. The Treasury learned this to its sorrow when holders of two billion dollars worth of maturing government securities demanded cash instead of the new offerings.

The long rise in stock prices and the cutbacks in dividends, or their omission altogether, have combined to cause the notable drop in stock yields.

The average yield of the 951 stocks that did pay dividends dropped to 4.1 per cent at the end of 1958, the exchange magazine reports. This was the lowest since the end of 1945, when it was 3.5 per cent, the only time in the 18 years of official records it has slipped below 4 per cent.

At the start of this year there were 94 stock issues paying less than 2 per cent, compared with 27 a year earlier. Only 4 yielded 10 per cent or more, against 79 a year before.

Yield is figured by dividing a stock's market price by the total of cash dividends paid on it in the preceding 12 months.

Of the 1,086 common issues listed at year-end, 961 paid one or more cash dividends—317 larger ones, 410 the same amount, and 269 less.

Total payments came to $3,711,482,560. This is a drop of $85,779,470 from 1957, or a decline of one per cent.

MEDICAL BROWSING

The Russians claim to have 40,000 citizens more than 100 years old, according to Dr. Edward L. Bortz, a past president of the American Medical Association. The majority are engaged in some kind of work requiring physical activity.
There is no single formula for longevity but those who live longest have remained active, are moderate in all things, get ample rest and sleep, and practice equanimity.

Do humans develop horns? Hard horny projections, varying from 1/4 inch to 3 inches long have been removed from the head of oldsters. One of the largest measured 8 inches long and 3 inches in circumference.

Some are minute replicas of animal horns. The majority develop on the sites of senile keratoses—the precancerous, brownish, scaly lesions that occur on the skin of older persons. Other horns grow from neglected warts, wens, or tumors. The abnormality is composed of layer upon layer of thickened skin cells. These decorations are removed easily via surgery.

Hi-Fi has been put to use in picking up and recording heart sounds. A small, bell-shaped device is placed on the chest wall and can pick up heart murmurs of low intensity that are below the threshold of stethoscopic audibility. The patient is placed in a specially constructed noiseproof room, and the electrical impulses are conducted by cable to a recorder outside the room, where a photographic record can be made. What's more, the whole system can be arranged with earphones and windows for the physician to hear and see the heart sounds at the same time.

Don't expect to go around to the corner drug store and buy this electronic equipment—for a few years, at any rate. In addition, many of the machines of this type are too sensitive to be of practical value; they pick up rumblings from the stomach and noises incident to breathing. As yet, the significance of the new and different sounds has not yet been evaluated.

TOMORROW: Sources of fractured ribs.

EKG RESULTS

H. T. writes: What heart conditions does a cardiogram not reveal?

REPLY

The electrocardiogram is a tracing of the electrical current through the heart. Abnormalities are noted only when these impulses are prolonged or deviated through changes in the conduction system or heart muscle. As a result, the EKG may be normal even though leakage of a valve or a congenital defect exists. In addition, it may be normal seconds before a fatal heart attack occurs. The reading of a person with a nervous or broken heart may be normal except for an increased rate.

SUPERMARKET MUSIC

A housewife writes: Do the clerks at supermarkets have nerves of steel to be able to stand the infernal racket of their radios or am I sick not to be able to stand this noise?

REPLY

Highstrung persons are more disturbed by noise. In addition, the clerks are used to it and the manager is unconcerned so long as business is good. On the other hand, a trip to your physician is in order to determine whether your health is good.

EATS ERASERS

F. P. writes: A 12 year old boy eats all the erasers from his pencils. Is this doing him any harm?

REPLY

Not physically but the habit may be a sign of immaturity, in the same category as gnawing the nails and other nervous habits.

MENTAL DISTURBANCE

Mrs. T. writes: What is done for involutional melancholia?

REPLY

The standard psychiatric treatment is given, consisting of discussion, tranquilizers, or shock therapy in severe cases.

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★

You Can Spot the Sides As D.C. Battle Is Joined

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—That old gag about it being impossible to tell the difference between Republicans and Democrats is no good any more.

In the first month of this new session of Congress, programs of the Eisenhower administration and the Democratic majorities on Capitol Hill have been spelled out so clearly that the differences are unmistakable.

The principal difference is in ideas about the amount of money the federal government should spend, and whether the budget shall be kept in balance or operated at a deficit.

IN THREE AREAS alone—federal aid to education, airport construction, and housing—Democrats now propose spending 1 1/2 billion dollars more than the Republican administration proposes for the next fiscal year. Over the full six or seven years of the conflicting programs, the Democrats would spend 13 billion dollars more.

In campaign speeches at Pittsburgh and Charleston last Oct. 27, President Eisenhower identified the Democrats as "the spendthrift league" and accused them of "urging a raid on the taxpayers' dollars."

The charge was resolutely denied by Democratic orators. But from the way things are shaping up in the new session of Congress, the President's charge seems justified.

Take housing. The administration called for a $1,660,000,000 program, spread over six years. Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) introduced a bill which would cost nearly three billion, spread over seven years.

For the fiscal year 1960, this bill as approved by the Senate would cost 150 million dollars more than the President requested. A bill passed by the House would cost 300 million more. The differences would be for direct loans to veterans which the administration proposes.

HOUSE AND SENATE bills have to be compromised, with no telling what the outcome. President Eisenhower will give no hint on whether he will sign or veto a bill that goes so far beyond his recommendations. But this will bring to a head the question of whether the government will unbalance its budget and embark on deficit financing.

Take aid to airports. The administration program calls for 200 million dollars spread over four years. The bill introduced by Sen. A. S. Monroney (D-Okla.) calls for 575 million spread over five years.

Take federal aids to education. The administration called for nothing beyond last year's National Defense Education Act. But Sen. James E. Murray (D-Mont.) has introduced a bill for school construction and other benefits which would cost 11.3 billion dollars in the next four years.

IN THE FIELD of government lending programs, the administration proposed 55 million dollars for depressed areas suffering from chronic high unemployment. Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) topped this with a 375-million program. President Eisenhower vetoed a similar bill last year.

The new Congress is already bogged down with legislative proposals not recommended by the administration. In the first month of the session, 820 new bills were introduced in the Senate and 3,833 in the House for a total of 4,653. This is a record for any first month.

Many of these bills call for increased government expenditures. The challenge which they throw up to Democratic leaders is how they will curb inflation if they allow government appropriations to keep on going up.

Children's Theatre Stages Heidi As Benefit for Scholarship Fund

For its second production of the current season, Warren's Children's Theatre, under the direction of Mrs. John O'Hara, will present the ever-delightful youth classic, Johanna Spyri's "Heidi", at 2:00 p. m. Saturday in Beatty Junior High School auditorium.

The production, a benefit for the Scholarship Fund of the Warren Education Association and Community PTA Council, is set high in the Swiss Alps, and, to add a note of realism, Mrs. O'Hara has announced live goats and kittens will grace the stage as the curtain goes up.

Sound effects of bleating goats and meowing kittens will be capably done by Kay Gorenflo, who shows a real talent for imitations. Also behind the scenes will be Nancy Coyle as prompter; Sue Lowe and Jan Schneck, handling props; Bob Rice and Butch Tranter, managing the stage.

In the cast, Kathy Steinkamp will be seen as Heidi; Gloria Morgan, as Clara, and Craig Scallise as Peter. For the supporting cast will be Russell Rudolph, Steve Cullinane, Patty Lowe, Vonnie Morgan, Cindy Dunham, Sally Newmaker, Bill Dickson, Dorothy Irvine, Mary Cashman and Jim Eldridge. The play centers around a Swiss miss, Heidi, who lives in the mountains with her grandfather and spends much of her time with Peter, the goatherd, until the day she must leave for Frankfurt, Germany, to begin her formal education.

Here, Heidi stays in the home of her Aunt Dete, mother of Cousin Clara. Clara is not well and Heidi, too, becomes homesick for her mountains, as days pass, and all she can see from her window are the tall city skyscrapers. Heidi must return to her beautiful mountains or she will become ill, but before her departure, she insists Clara must come for a visit. The restoration of Clara's health is the high point of this popular classic, together with the down-to-earth lives of the mountain folk.

An enchanting story, retold by the Children's Theatre, with unique lighting effects to be done by Dick Rapp, should add up to a fine way for Warren county students to spend Valentine's Day and to aid a very worthwhile community project. Those who do not hold season memberships may secure single admissions at the door prior to curtain time.

Moriah Lutheran Activity Reports

LUDLOW—At a meeting of the evangelism committee of Moriah church, plans were made to continue prayer and Bible studies on April 2 and May 7. Rev. Carl Eliason is chairman, with a committee composed of Edith Larson, Gustav Olson, Mrs. Lawrence Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Nelson.

Moriah Church Women held a practical work session at the church recently, with Mrs. Arthur Christenson as chairman, when kimono and other baby and hospital garments were made to send to African hospitals, which are connected with Augustana Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Carl Eliason and Mrs. Enoch Nelson read articles in connection with the reading project for this organization, and lunch was enjoyed by those present.

Church Women's constitution committee and executive board held a meeting during which plans were formulated for the movement next meeting into the projected plans of Augustana Lutheran Church Women, based upon the vote of the large group attending the preceding meeting. A plan for placement of all elected officers and committees was accepted by the executive board in keeping with the work of ALCW and based upon the new handbook.

Announcement from Warren High School that the junior class has selected "Time Out for Ginger" as its 1959 production recalls that the same play was presented some years ago by the Player's Club with Maggie Young, daughter of a former staff member at Warren State Hospital and high school student at the time, in the title role. Helen Morrow directed the previous performance.

Mrs. Carrie Sager, who admits to being one of Warren's oldest citizens, quietly celebrated another birthday anniversary at her home, 9 Dartmouth street, Tuesday, during which she was the recipient of numerous greeting cards and gifts, including potted plants and a birthday cake. Clarendon Talks Reservoir; Relief Elects Officers Considerable discussion was held on the problem of water reservoir for fire purposes at monthly meeting of Clarendon Volunteer Fire Department in the Borough building Tuesday evening. Other matters before the department were largely routine.

It has been known for several days now that the present tank reservoir has to be replaced due to "old age." Two ideas have been proposed for replacement—electric or gasoline-powered well pump or construction of a new tank.

Chief Leonard Fabrick presented his report on 1958 to the department, as submitted to Borough Council last week.

It was approved by members to have the quarterly dinner-business meetings again this year, first one in 1959 being next month.

Following the departmental meeting, Firemen's Relief Association conducted their meeting, electing new officers and filling three vacancies.

Appointed by President Ernie Nollinger to fill three vacant chairs on the Association's Board of Directors were: Jim Cloutman, Tom Dorrion and Larry Weilaicher, all members of the fire department.

New officers elected were: Ernie Nollinger, reelected president; Myron Bullock, vice-president; Charles Jones, treasurer; and Larry Weilaicher, secretary.

Dr. Richard S. Adams, Dairy Extension specialist from Penn State University, will speak on "Forage Testing in Pennsylvania," a service recently made available to Pennsylvania farmers. Dr. Adams is largely responsible for the development of this outstanding program.

Also on the agenda—James Steer, a representative of the New Holland Machine Company, will present his views on hay drying and on forage preservation. These meetings for the people of Warren County are arranged through the co-operative efforts of the Pomona Grange and the Agricultural Extension Office.

RADIO and TV

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP) — "Peter Gunn" is starting a new fashion in television series.

In its story line the NBC-TV weekly series (Mondays, 9 p.m. EST) is routine, run-of-the-mill private eye. But a couple of ingredients have been added that are creating "Peter Gunn" fan clubs among the cool younger set.

The ingredients are (1) jazz and (2) sex. Before (2) impels alarmed parents to drag Jane or Junior from the set, it should be said that it's pretty harmless. Gunn, played by Craig Stevens, smooches around some with a beautiful blonde played by Lola Albright.

By far the most important ingredient of this series' popularity, however, is jazz. The show's producer, Blake Edwards, credits 50 per cent of the program's success to its live, original music.

The composer and director of the music is a young fellow from Alliquippa, Pa., named Henry Mancini who came to town the other day and modestly said, "Blake Edwards has set up an extraordinary combination of moods in 'Peter Gunn.' When you stop to analyze it, you can't find the boundaries where the music stops and the show takes over."

The musical motif of the series is sparked by the fact that Gunn is forever hanging around a jazz spot called Mother's, of all things, where Miss Albright is employed as a singer.

The songs she sings are recognized pop numbers. Mancini composes all other music heard on the show, a total of 10 hours for 39 weeks—which, he agrees, is a great deal of original music.

He doesn't begin composing until a show has been filmed. Then his music is scored into the film.

It appears that the show will go a long time with its steadily increasing audience. And now various producers have plans in the works for five other network TV series using a similar musical formula.

Is jazz really that popular? "The jazz audience is not a vast one," Mancini said. "It's specific and special. We've reached it — and beyond it into a larger audience by associating jazz with story and characters."

Mirrored in Our Times

We're still dwelling on the unusual talents displayed during the recent "Evening of Plays" and, it pressed, would gladly predict a few names that will one day be in lights. Although Warren has long become a cultural community in many ways, adults who failed to attend the High School dramatic club's production last week, can't possibly appreciate what they missed. In addition to the remarkable abilities always evidenced in Player's Club presentations, one can hope these High school thespians will be interested in joining and participating in future plays.

With the Lenten season opening today and Valentine's Day falling Saturday, a gift problem might be posed in many instances. Whereas it may have been customary to offer a blazing box (heart-shaped, of course) to a lady love, it's now of course that she has decided to forego such pleasure during Lent. However, we found an item every bit as endearing and imparting a wonderfully romantic glow...perfume, naturally! in gleaming, golden purse-sized flacon! On the other hand, plenty of those on Valentine lists would be bitterly disappointed not to receive traditional candies created for "sweethearts that can't quite live on love alone."

The Warren Drug Store suggests famous Fanny Farmer Valentine candies exquisitely packaged for the occasion or perfume in golden flacon (gift-wrapped in holiday motif and ready for giving) — "My Sin," "Arpeggio" or "Chanel No. 5"—priced at $3, $4 and $5.

The gals can find smart gifts for the gentlemen and there are wonderful Valentine's still available in the greeting card section.

We can scarcely wait until someone finally reports the first robin!—although why any self-respecting robin would return too soon to our climatic conditions is more than one knows. Monday's sleet and ice didn't help matters any.

Along with the delightfully hilarious (and sometimes downright insulting) Valentine greetings on the market today, some of the sentiment has gone from the scene. However, there's more fun to be had on this particular holiday with or without the usual hearts and flowers routine. Some of the masculine gifts of clothing make happy the recipient while the giver really gets a kick out of making selections. Men's shorts gayly adorned with crimson hearts; pajamas also decorated for the holiday as well as Valentines become more and more popular. Handkerchiefs, as well, bear greetings for the day.

Choose his Valentine gift at The Style Shop—be he extremely modern or more conservative. The selection is fine and if you note an occasional sign—you'll find many excellent bargains still in effect. Saturday is the day designated as Valentine's Day—so stop by The Style Shop way.

After two quiet weekends, comparatively free of motor vehicle accidents, let's appreciate our carefulness and good luck. Keep up the good work!

STAIRWAY to OUTER SPACE

THE THREE R's MIGHT HAVE BEEN ENOUGH YESTERDAY, but today they merely represent a good beginning... a platform for the future. In a world of Sputnik, Lunik, Atlas, and Jupiter, the three R's must be expanded if we are to preserve the American way of life and our cherished freedoms.

This week, we commemorate the 112th anniversary of the birth of Thomas A. Edison, the genius who harnessed electricity and thus laid the foundation for today's rapidly expanding electrical-electronics industry.

We at the local Sylvania plant are proud to be members of this vitally important industry, and we join with other members of our industry in paying tribute to the memory of Edison through the observance of National Electrical Week and Science Youth Day on February 11.

To meet the challenge of tomorrow, America must interest thousands upon thousands of young men and women in scientific and engineering careers... young people with a will to conquer the unknown, a desire to accomplish the impossible. Only through knowledge and determination can we meet the demands of the future. To provide the modern Edisons who will be needed so urgently tomorrow, we urge youth in greater numbers to seek careers in science and engineering. No career offers more challenges or greater opportunities for young Americans.

ELECTRICITY builds jobs!

It's true! Of the nation's 60 million workers, 3,194,000 or about 1 out of every 20 are employed in some branch of the electrical industry or its related services... with new products and new uses of electricity creating new jobs every day. The electrical industry has not only made more jobs over the years, but it has created better jobs. It has improved the skills and led to better incomes and higher standards of living for those employed. To a large extent, it has influenced all phases of the economy... industry, commerce, agriculture, science... in fact it has opened a new way of living for every one of us.

On February 11, during National Electrical Week, we celebrate the anniversary of the founder of our great industry, Thomas Alva Edison.

Join with us this week in celebrating his birth and the electrical industry's humble beginnings, its rapid growth, its dynamic future and its vital impact on the country's employment picture.

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTRIC COMPANY

NATIONAL ELECTRICAL WEEK

February 8 to 14

February 11 marks the birthday anniversary of one of our greatest Americans, Thomas Alva Edison. To him goes the credit of almost single-handedly inaugurating our era of electricity and electronics.

In the sweep of its effect on the world and in the scope of its own development, the age of electricity is unparalleled.

We, as members of this great industry, are proud to pay tribute to the memory of Mr. Edison, its founder and one of its most diligent workers.

THOMAS A. EDISON

The inventor's discovery of the "Edison Effect" in 1880 revealed the fundamental principle on which rests the modern art of electronics.

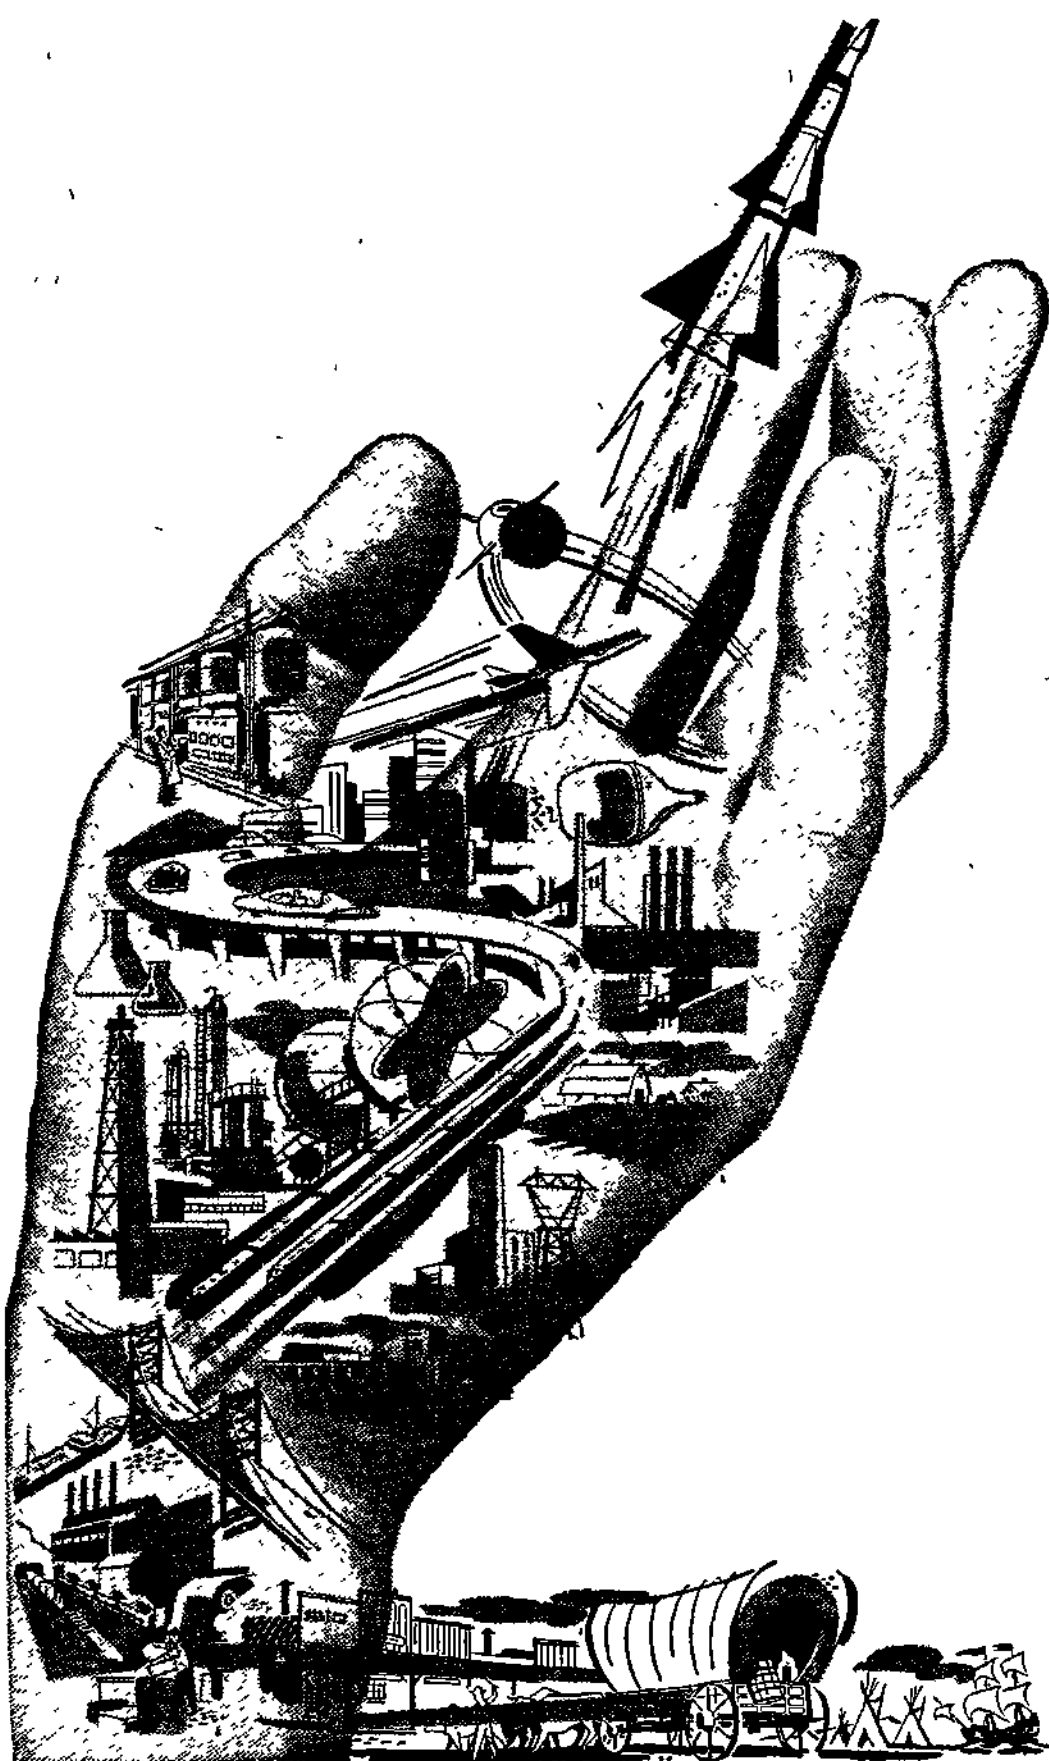

Moving Forward Fast Into A Future, Unlimited - - -

From the sailboat and the covered wagon to the moon rocket, progress has constantly accelerated, until today we move forward at unprecedented speed into an era that seems to place no limit on the scope of man's achievement.

One Thomas Edison in a generation is no longer enough to sustain our kind of progress — today we literally need thousands of well-trained young people with the kind of vision, imagination and courage that took Edison on his lifelong conquest of the unknown.

The International Edison Birthday Celebration is an annual event commemorating February 11, the anniversary of Thomas Alva Edison's birth, as Science youth Day throughout the world. The purposes are:

- To interest more junior and senior high school students in science and engineering careers;
- To stimulate greater interest in effective science education and wider public acquaintance with science and technology.

Bills To Provide Stopgap Aid for State Operations

HARRISBURG (AP)—Some 17 million dollars in stopgap aid for state operations was in position today for final legislative action. The Senate Appropriations Committee cleared the House-approved measures for floor action Tuesday. One bill would appropriate $15,203,000 in deficiency appropriations. The other would provide $1,850,000 for the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority. A companion measure would allow the state to meet the deficiencies by borrowing from the school teachers' Retirement Fund. The deficiency appropriations would provide $9,500,000 for public assistance benefits and $3,200,000 for occupational disease benefits. Meanwhile, the Senate Appropriations Committee held up action on a $200,000 appropriation for distribution of the Korean War bonus until Gov. Lawrence spells out how the necessary 150 million dollar bond issue is to be financed. (AP) Means Associated Press

Organizational Size of the Air Force To Be Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force probably will shrink its organizational size to fewer than 90 wings during the next five or six years—smaller since the whole demobilization following World War II. These wings will include missile units as well as manned aircraft. Part of the cutback will be in B-47 medium bomber wings as more efficient means of delivering destruction replace these lanes. Economy seems to play only a small part in the trend, which began about two years ago. Improvement of both aircraft and missiles accounts primarily for the change. The nuclear firepower which can be delivered by even 90 wings will be thousands of times that of the huge bomber fleets of World War II. The military budget now being debated in Congress says that there will be a "modest reduction" in the number of wings in the Air Force from 105 at the end of the current fiscal year (next June 30) to 102 at the end of 1960. The slow reduction in wing strength started after a peak post-war strength of 137 was reached in mid-1957. The size of an Air Force wing varies from 45 big bombers to 75 fighters. Normally, a wing consists of three squadrons of planes. In missiles, the squadron designation is generally used. A ballistic missile squadron will range from 10 weapons for an intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM)—suit to 15 for an intermediate range ballistic missile — IRBM — squadron. Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy said last month that the Strategic Air Command will include 14 wings of B-52 heavy jet bombers—two more than had been

News of Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AT Movie-TV Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Watch out, Hollywood, here comes a new Kim Novak.

She's feeling her oats. In fact, she even threw a newspaperman off her movie set. After umpteenth years of covering the film and stages, I had to come to New York to be ordered off a set for the first time.

It couldn't have been done by a nicer girl. She was doing a smooching scene with Fredric March in Columbia's "Middle of the Night" at a Manhattan studio.

"I'm sorry," she said afterward. "I was so concerned about what you would think of the scene that I couldn't give a good rehearsal. We were talking this morning about standing up for your rights, so I decided to stand up for mine."

See what I mean? The girl has fire in her eye. This is the first time she has been working away from the watchful guidance of her bosses, and she's enjoying it.

Kim is delighted for several reasons: she is working with March, considered by many America's greatest actor; she had the advantage of rehearsals, which she had never known on her Hollywood films; she is allowed to be natural.

"Look — no makeup," she said happily. "We're going for realism in this picture, and I don't have to wear that layer of goop that cracks if you so much as smile."

"And I can run my hand through my hair if I want to. They don't insist here that every curl be in place."

Kim said she likes the eastern operation, too, because the press deals directly with her. No go-betweens.

"A lot of the bad things that have been printed about me have been the result of someone else's doing," she said. "Now I'm going to answer the questions myself. I may make mistakes, but they will be my mistakes."

Dep't. of Revenue Struthers Wells Explains Use of Corp. Profits 1959 Renewal Tab Show a Decline

HARRISBURG — The State Department of Revenue announced today a pressure-sensitive sticker will be used as the renewal tab for the five-year motor vehicle registration plates issued during 1958.

Secretary Charles M. Dougherty said three important factors prompted the Department to adopt the pressure-sensitive sticker rather than a metal renewal tab. They were economy, safety and easier law enforcement.

A savings of approximately $160,000 will result this year alone from use of the pressure-sensitive sticker rather than a metal renewal tab.

An undetermined savings will accrue to the taxpayer by minimizing the possibility of chiseling by some owners of more than one vehicle. The State of California, which changed from a metal tab renewal to a pressure-sensitive sticker in 1957, reported that one of the greatest disadvantages of metal tabs was there was no means of preventing them from being transferred from one vehicle to another.

It is virtually impossible to remove the pressure-sensitive sticker from the plate without destroying it after it has been on the plate three to four days.

The sticker, measuring one by one and a half inches, is made of reflectorized material. The light reflecting quality of the sticker amounts to a built-in safety feature. This feature will aid law enforcement agents to detect validated plates during the hours of darkness.

Four distinctive color combinations have been adopted for each of the various motor vehicle classifications.

A blue silhouette of Pennsylvania on a yellow background will be used for passenger cars, motorcycles, dealers and tractors. The sticker for trucks and school buses will be red on silver; taxicabs and buses blue on silver; and trailers green on silver.

Instructions for applying the renewal tab are printed on the mailing envelope as well as on the back of the sticker. It is a simple operation. No tools are necessary.

Pennsylvania is the first state east of the Mississippi River to adopt the pressure-sensitive sticker for renewing semi-permanent registration plates.

A total savings of about two million dollars will accrue to the taxpayers of Pennsylvania during the five-year life of the present license plate and the pressure-sensitive renewal stickers.

The Bureau of Motor Vehicles plans to mail an estimated 4,250,000 passenger car class applications for 1959 registrations.

Titusville Herald: Profits of the Struthers Wells Corporation declined and the backlog of unfilled orders was cut in half during the fiscal year ending last Nov. 30.

The annual report, which was received by stockholders in Monday's mail, said that earnings for the first part of 1959 would not be satisfactory. However, it also said that the corporation expected to feel beneficial effects from the recovery from the recession in the "very near future." The corporation is in "excellent condition," the report stated.

Through a printing error, the report failed to get across a piece of news for Titusville stockholders. The next annual meeting, on April 7 of this year, will be held in Titusville, rather than in Baltimore, Md., as has been the custom. The report said "Baltimore" when "Titusville" was intended.

The report was signed by H. W. Conarro of Warren, president. Highlights from it follow:

Sales and profits—Sales for our 1958 fiscal year amounted to $21,026,382 or $4,978,052 less than the previous year. The reduction of 10.1% in sales, coupled with increased operating expense, resulted in a reduction of $1,081,090 or 49.5% in profit before provision for taxes on income. The work load as between plants was erratic during the current year, and while some plants and departments operated a good portion of the year at capacity, other departments were operated at only a small fraction of their potential output.

Net profit for our 1958 fiscal year amounted to $606,642 as compared to $1,100,432 for the preceding year. After deducting preferred dividends the earnings per share on the 281,916 shares of common stock amounted to $1.79 per share as compared to $3.53 per share in the previous year, based on the same number of outstanding shares.

Working capital—The Working Capital position of the Corporation improved during the past year. Current Assets at November 30, 1958, amounted to $9,926,785, as compared to Current Liabilities of $1,197,513, resulting in a ratio of 8.3 to 1 as compared to 3.7 to 1 at November 30, 1957.

Inventories—The Corporation continued its policy of pricing all inventory at the lower of cost or market, with the exception of steel ingots and billets and the related in-process orders which were valued at cost on the last-in, first-out method of pricing.

At November 30, 1958, raw material inventory decreased $506,579, and work in process inventory decreased $750,020 when compared with the previous year.

Business outlook—The Corporation entered its 1958 fiscal year with a backlog of approximately $17,000,000. This backlog was reduced to approximately $9,000,000 at the end of our 1958 fiscal year. Bookings of all the various products of the Corporation were low during most of the current year. There was a slight increase in orders for Forgings during the latter part of the year and orders for steam generating equipment during the past few months have benefited from certain new designs developed during the last year. There has been a noticeable lack of business in the large Process Equipment field and what orders can be obtained are at a very competitive price level. As the excess of productive capacity of our customers is absorbed, an upturn in capital goods expenditures can be expected.

Historically, our business shows a lag of from six to nine months in feeling the effect of recessions and recoveries. There is no variation in the pattern this time. We feel that the recovery indicated, in consumer goods will have a beneficial effect on our Corporation in the very near future; however the earnings for the first part of 1959 will not be satisfactory.

Your Corporation is in excellent condition. Financially, a current ratio of better than eight to one speaks for itself. Physically, our plant facilities are modern and in better condition than ever before. Changes have been made in our sales

Resolution on Parking Offered By the C.L.U.

Central Labor Council's proposed resolution concerning solution to the overnight parking ban in Warren Borough as presented to City Fathers during their meeting last evening is as follows:

"The Warren County Central Labor Council at its meeting of January 27, 1959 adopted a resolution urging the members of the Borough Council to reconsider and repeal the ordinance banning overnight parking on Borough streets.

"We believe, as you must certainly be aware, that car registrations are increasing within the Borough, and that as more streets are being paved the parking problem, (overnight), is becoming quite serious.

"We would like to propose two alternate plans which would help alleviate the situation. Recognizing that all of us take pride in the cleanliness of Warren, and that street maintenance must be taken care of, we would like to propose:

"(1) That parking be permitted on alternate sides of each street each evening. In this manner snow removal, street cleaning etc. could be done on the right side of streets one evening, on the left side of streets another evening, or

"(2) That streets be taken care of on a basis of no parking on streets running east and west one evening, north and south on another.

"We sincerely feel that one of the above systems should help solve the problem, and urge that each council member give this matter serious consideration."

and management organization to make it more efficient.

The Jamestown City Tax Sale committee deferred action on consideration of a $12,000 bid for the city owned Gifford building, the bid being made by Warren's United Refining Company desirous of building a filling station on the site in question. While the special committee advocated acceptance of United's bid a majority vote tabled action for two weeks. It was noted that seven gas stations do business in Brooklyn Square at the present time and that any action to build another in the area described would rest eventually with the Jamestown Board of Zoning Appeals.

Immediate Action On Kinzua Dam Is Urged by C. of C.

Warren Area Chamber of Commerce board of directors met in initial session last evening and went on record to strongly press quick construction of the Kinzua Dam project. In view of the local flood situation the Chamber passed a resolution urgently requesting Congressmen and Senators to do all in their power to expedite the early construction of the Kinzua Dam. Copies of the resolution will be sent to all state and federal authorities.

The special flood control committee of the Chamber will meet with Congressman Leon H. Gavin Friday morning at Oil City to further press the vital matter.

Members heard the 1959 work program outlined, plans to be revealed to the full membership and the public at the annual banquet February 25. The 1959 budget was reviewed and a variety of committee reports read.

The board's new president, D. E. Conaway stated that applicants for the position of executive vice president to the organization were still being interviewed and it is hoped a selection may be forthcoming before the month's end.

Following the session, at the invitation of Robert Anstadt, local manager of Bell Telephone company, Chamber representatives visited the new dial building for a preview look at its facilities.

Sheffield Seeks Local Authority Financing Plan

SHEFFIELD—Principal business to come before the Sheffield Area Joint School Committee meeting this week was affirmation of a resolution from the Sheffield Township School Board requesting permission of the Department of Public Instruction to change the method of financing needed elementary school building through a local authority rather than the State Public School Building Authority. The step would pave the way for immediate action toward a solution to the jointure's elementary school building program.

Mrs. Ruth Howarth, fourth grade Lincoln School teacher, was granted sabbatical leave of absence for health reasons and Linda Boardman was approved for employment as assistant playground director this summer.

The committee also granted excusal of Michael Haden on request of a physician, pending Department of Public Instruction action.

Discussions dealt with budget: calendar for 1959-60; salary schedule; insurance programs; buildings; employees; students and athletic teams. The group also mentioned the Department of Labor and Industry school inspections with subsequent recommendations as well as school personnel needs for the coming year.

The treasurer's, nurse's and statistical reports were accepted as presented and bills in the amount of $2997.00 approved for payment.

The president expects within a short time to announce specific membership in finance, transportation, building and grounds, curriculum, textbooks and supplies equipment areas.

The Warren Public Library has books on all of the major games and sports.

Matter of FACT

At least 4,000 years ago, the ancient Egyptians were using chairs and tables, stools and chests not unlike some of the pieces in use today. Some of the chairs had high backs and arms, decorated with carved animals' heads. Others were simply square stools with crossed legs which folded together like our camp chairs.

SHADOW OF THE BEAVER

Times-Mirror Sports Department passes along, in part, the following comments from Steve Szalewicz's outdoor column in Titusville Herald in the interest of sportsmen's club and conservationists:

Relating to recent floods, the writer notes that "when slanting rains, melting snows and crushing gorges caused so much misery and destruction in this and neighboring valleys another mammal cast a symbolic shadow on Allegheny River watershed. . . . It was the shadow of the Beaver."

"The Beaver is a dam builder. His ponds trap silt. When the beaver must look for food his abandoned dams break up the pond drains and the silt turns into a meadow."

"Shrubs succeed grasses and a young forest takes root eventually. It's Nature's order. Some water in the form of rain or snow is stopped on the land where it falls."

"Ideally, forests, grassy meadows and dams are the answering shadows to the flash floods which have been visiting Northwestern Pennsylvania from Ohio border to Warren."

"Dams are the conservationist's most important tool at this late date. They will immediately conserve the most important natural resource in Allegheny River valley."

"Most important natural resource in Northwestern Pennsylvania is its people. And an effective and quick way to protect these people from rampaging torrents is flood control reservoirs."

"Kinzua Dam, we are told, is the key reservoir."

"Naturally organized sportsmen and sincere conservationists will not keep silent. We will agree on these points:

"That some 40,000 acres of abandoned farm lands in Venango and Crawford Counties should be reforested as a long-range approach to flood control."

"That when the federal and state governments spend $200,000 for dike and channel straightening projects on Oil Creek, or Island-removal in French Creek, they should spend the same sum for water retention ponds and grass roots land and water conserving measures on these water sheds. Why erect dikes to protect people and property, but bare the dikes to the assaults of flash floods?"

"That is the case of Kinzua Flood Control Reservoir, where our government has made a treaty with the Indians to which he pledged an undisturbed reservation forever."

A very interesting proposed apology is given by Szalewicz, amounting to: The White Man entered the Red Man's land, cut his trees to build canoes, homes, etc. Soon hard rains came and flood out the White Man. Flood takes white man teepees. Squaws and papoose want to leave. Allegawee not like white man.

"Then White Man call council of beaver tribe. He say build big beaver pond at Waters of Big Fish."

"Wise Indian now say tell beaver tribe to plant trees, give back to Alleghawee stolen lands."

"But White Man know Indian is wise. Great White Father not wish to speak with forked tongue. Will trade much wampum for tribe land."

"Not many moons will rise before Great White Father send his braves on long scouting party. White Man build air canoes. Fly on bird trails like arrow. Set up many teepees on Moon."

"White Man not talk with forked tongue. Think with forked mind. Soon may be too late to plant trees on earth."

Chuck Comiskey Suffers Setback In Deal for Sox

CHICAGO (AP)—Chuck Comiskey, suffering a slight setback in probate court Tuesday, criticized the parties involved in the upcoming sale of the Chicago White Sox. Comiskey, a co-president of the team along with his brother-in-law John Rigney, criticized Rigney and prospective buyer Bill Veeck.

He took aim at Rigney and his sister Dorothy for vacationing in Florida "when certain matters concerning the club have to be decided every day."

Veeck was the subject of criticism for "making changes in the organization" without owning a single share of stock.

Comiskey's outburst came after Probate Judge Robert Jerome Dunne denied a motion by Comiskey's attorneys that Dorothy be restrained from distributing stock to herself from the estate of their mother, Mrs. Grace Comiskey.

Judge Dunne based the denial on the grounds there was no indication Dorothy planned to ask the court for a distribution of the stock.

Veeck holds an option, which expires Feb. 18, to buy Dorothy's shares which make up 54 per cent of the club's stock.

Comiskey blasted Veeck after a report had Veeck naming Hank Greenberg as the team's farm director after he has purchased the club.

Pennsylvania Outdoors...

Prepared by Pennsylvania Game Commission

Change in Bounty Pay
 Game Commission will continue to pay $4 bounty on gray and red foxes and $5 on adult or fledgling great-horned owl killed during the agency's fiscal year beginning June 1, with this exception: bounty on gray and red foxes and great-horned owls will not be paid beginning with opening date of 1959 small game season, and throughout November and December of this year.

Action was taken to save Game Fund dollars paid out for creatures taken incidentally by persons who would have shot them anyway while hunting. Most experienced trappers make their catch earlier, anyway, and do not trap during small game season to avoid catching hunting dogs.

Trainee Exams
 Game Commission issues this reminder: applications from men who contemplate taking the April 4 examination to qualify for the tenth Student Officer Class must be postmarked not later than midnight, March 16. Men selected will enroll as trainees at Commission's Ross Leffler School of Conservation on or about June 14.

River No Barrier
 Stories about unusual happenings during hunting season last year are still being told. Game Protector William Denton says the experience of a would-be member of Polar Bear Club who hunted deer along Clarion River goes like this: "The man shot across the river and hit a deer. He left most of his clothes on the bank and waded the river. About the time he arrived on the opposite bank, water was released from a dam upstream. The rushing, deep water stranded the shivering man in zero weather until his buddy could walk to a bridge and reach him with the garments he had shed. Hunter was frustrated as well as chilled. About the time he reached the place where the deer fell, it got up and left the country."

Teach Gun Safety Now
 Boy Scout, school and athletic league administrators searching for an interesting and beneficial project during winter months have one ready-made for their participation. Youngsters may be taught proper gun handling, range firing and a measure of hunting safety while inclement weather curtails outdoor activities. At least one NRA instructor will be available in almost any Pennsylvania community.

Game Takes Advantage
 "It is heartening to note how quickly wildlife moves into an area where food and cover conditions have been improved," says Clifford Ruth, a Game Commission land manager in southwestern Pennsylvania. "After we made border cuttings on State game lands this winter it seemed that over night a surprising number of rabbits moved into these cuttings," he explains.

Eagles Hand Beavers 8th Straight Loss

A three-point first period spelled Corry's eighth straight loss Tuesday night as the Eagles hung up a 63-36 decision on the Youngsville High School floor. The win was the eighth in 14 decisions for the Eagles while the Beavers are now 5-12 for the year.

Joe Inter, Chuck Halfast and Tom Craig combined their efforts to pace the Eagles into a 19-3 first quarter bulge. Leading 32-15 at halftime the Eagles again exploded in the third stanza for a 17-8 edge and a 49-23 three-quarter lead.

Inter led Youngsville with 14 while Jack Natale had 11 and Craig 10. Ed Davison paced the Beavers with 10.

Field of Nine Shapes Up for Champ Stakes

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—A field of about nine home-folded 3-year-olds shapes up for the California Breeders' Champion Stakes at Santa Anita Thursday for a purse that may be worth $39,120.

That would be the added purse if nine go to the post in the mile and one-sixteenth feature. The race is limited to 3-year-olds foaled in California and the $39,120 would make it the richest race under these conditions in the state's history.

Stated to race are Fighting Indian, Finnegan, Monk's Hood, Friar Roach, Linwood, King O' Turt, Navy King, F.H. Russ and The Biscuit.

Ayersman Pushes Way Among Top Four in Scoring

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Big Bob Ayersman of Virginia Tech has pushed his way in among the top four college basketball scoring leaders while helping produce a threat to West Virginia's domination of the Southern Conference.

The 6-4 sophomore from Boomer, W.Va. scored 47 points Tuesday night to lead Virginia Tech to a 104-66 victory over Richmond. Ayersman tossed in 17 field goals and 13 free throws to set a school single game scoring record.

Ayersman hiked his season's total to 478 points and a 28.1 average for 17 games. The only major college players ahead of him are Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati 325, Leo Byrd of Marshall 238 and Jim Hagan of Tennessee Tech 230.

The victory gave Virginia Tech an 8-2 record in the conference. Ayersman's performance, the 80-72 victory by sixth-ranked North Carolina State over Duke and the end of Missouri's 11-game losing streak were among the noteworthy developments on Tuesday night's program.

Lou Pucillo, North Carolina State's 5-9 guard from Philadelphia, scored 27 points as the Wolfpack picked up their 17th triumph against two setbacks.

Missouri broke the longest losing streak in its history by turning back Oklahoma State 51-44. Missouri won the game at the free throw line, canning 13 of 16 while Oklahoma State managed only 6 of 13. It was Missouri's first victory since beating Rice last Dec. 18.

Rigney Aide Delayed By Winter Baseball

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The temporary manager as well as Manager Bill Rigney will make a delayed appearance at San Francisco Giant spring training.

Coach Salty Parker notified Giant officials today he won't be able to take charge at Phoenix, Ariz. until next week, probably several days after many players report. He's plotting a club in the Dominican Republic League.

Rigney, injured in an auto accident Sunday, named Parker to assume the job until he arrives. Along with a broken jaw, Rigney suffered a fractured collarbone. His wife, Paula, suffered a broken hip.

Vice President Charles (Chub) Feeney said that until Parker checks in the conditioning program will be handled by scouts Frank Shellenback and Tom Sheehan.

Nat'l Basketball Association Game On Coast Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The National Basketball Assn. takes another look at West Coast interest tonight when the Minneapolis Lakers play the Cincinnati Royals at the Cow Palace.

The NBA is mulling proposals to move a couple of teams to the West, or to expand and place teams in the West and Southwest. In the first western NBA game last month, 13,652 fans saw the Boston Celtics whip the Lakers 109-106 in overtime. The lure for that one, however, was not only the great Bob Cousy, but ex-San Francisco stars Bill Russell and K. C. Jones. All three are with Boston.

A preliminary game between musclemen from the San Francisco 49ers and Los Angeles Ram football teams should help the gate.

Vern Mikkelsen led the Lakers to a 118-100 victory in their Houston affair with a career high of 43 points. It was the only NBA game.

Spring Training Facts About National League

CINCINNATI (AP) — The days of long spring training "barnstorming" trips home for National League baseball clubs appear near an end.

The league said today its eight clubs will play 179 exhibition games this spring, but all except 13 will be played in the spring training states of Florida and Arizona.

The Pittsburgh Pirates and the St. Louis Cardinals won't play any games en route home from the spring training bases at Fort Myers and St. Petersburg, Fla., respectively.

The Cincinnati Redlegs, Los Angeles Dodgers, Milwaukee Braves and Philadelphia Phils each have scheduled two games en route home.

Nickel alloys have been used recently in oil refining equipment because the metal stands up under both heat and sub-zero temperatures.

St. Louis was scheduled at Detroit but bad weather forced down its plane at Harrisburg, Pa.

SCORING RECORD

at a path across the southeast corner of Forest Park. The worst destruction was in crowded Negro enclaves on a path from the park to the vicinity of Busch Stadium, home of the St. Louis Cardinals. This area is a mile to two miles from downtown St. Louis.

Eight persons died when the tornado crushed a house at Whittier and Delmar.

There was also serious damage in the section of St. Louis known as "Greenwich Village" near the intersection of Boyle and Olive streets. In this area are many antique shops, apartments and taverns.

The tornado struck without warning and moved at tremendous speed. It took only minutes to blow itself out in the Busch Stadium area, after leveling a 380-foot radio tower and a 575-foot television tower.

The St. Louis Civil Defense Agency acknowledged it did not function smoothly in spite of eight years of preparation for such a disaster. CD officials blamed the Weather Bureau for not predicting the tornado and sending out an alert.

The Weather Bureau replied that would have been impossible. The tornado followed almost the same path of one in 1927 which killed 78.

Bodies No. 20 and 21 were dug from the rubble of a house in the 4200 block of Washington Ave. Tuesday night. They were identified as Mrs. Lee Bufts, 24, and her 18-month-old son, Lee Jr.

Many Are Homeless in Wabash River Floods

(From Page One)

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The worst flood in 46 years began receding at Wabash today, and the big battle against the onrushing Wabash River in northern Indiana switched to sandbagging and pumping crews in Peru, 14 miles downstream. Although an overnight cold snap froze some backwaters, the Wabash rolled past expected heights, lapping at the sandbags hastily stacked on Peru's floodwall and levees. The Red Cross estimated 350 families had been forced from their homes along the upper Wabash, from Buffalo to Lafayette.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The worst floods in 16 years sent hundreds of families from their homes in the upper Wabash River Valley today and closed roads throughout the area.

Volunteers joined with police and National Guardsmen to rescue stranded residents at Logansport, Delphi, Georgetown and Wabash.

Flood waters covered a 30-block residential area and an 18-block industrial area in Wabash. The city faced danger from ice moving down the Wabash River, threatening bridges and the waterworks.

4,000 buildings were reported damaged at a loss of 12 million dollars by the Insurance Board of St. Louis.

In many other parts of the storm belt, pounded by ice, snow, sleet and rain storms for more than two days, there were big jobs—restoring communications, clearing streets and highways and getting business, industry and schools back to normal.

Tornadoes also hit areas in other parts of Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky. Six persons were injured in Kentucky and five in Ohio. Many homes were damaged.

The floods in the northern half of Ohio and in the upper Wabash Valley in Indiana were the worst. Thousands have been forced from their homes. A state of emergency was in effect at Friday and Van Wert, Ohio. The overflows in Indiana were the most damaging since 1943.

Undated Pennsylvania weather Pennsylvanians who got a forecast of spring Tuesday when the temperature went over the 50-degree mark were reminded today that it's still winter.

A sudden snowstorm in the Pittsburgh area sent traffic into a tailspin, bringing a rash of wrecks.

Most of the severe wintry conditions were reported in Pittsburgh and other sections of western Pennsylvania. Up to 3 inches of snow fell in some sections of Erie County. A stretch of Route 6 near Mill Village was temporarily blocked by snow drifts.

banks for three miles through the city.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's northern cities were imperiled by new floods today for the second time in less than a month. In one city alone, Fremont—still in a state of emergency from January's inundation—between 1,200 and 1,300 residents have been forced from their homes by the new floods.

The new floods hit chiefly in northern Ohio where rainfall Tuesday amounted to three inches in places.

On Jan. 23, two days after the previous floods began, the governor proclaimed all of Ohio in a state of emergency. In the present inundation, three communities and one county were placed in states of emergency.

At least two deaths—one a drowning—have resulted directly or indirectly from the new floods.

Plate Glass Strike Negotiations Stalled

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Federal Mediator Robert Donahoe said today negotiations to end the 123-day Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. strike "are pretty much up in the air." The union and company have rejected each other's latest proposals.

Union negotiators Tuesday night turned down the firm's last offer. They studied it three days and offered a counter-proposal, which Pittsburgh Plate quickly rejected.

"In view of the developments we will continue to meet with the parties separately today," Donahoe said. "If any developments occur, a joint session will be called."

Ralph Reiser, president of the United Glass & Ceramic Workers Union, said the union counter-proposal reduced from 11 to 7 the number of issues to be submitted to binding arbitration after the employees return to work.

Donahoe said the union's counter-proposal, with the exception of a few minor changes, was similar to the offer it made Jan. 28.

Mystery Blasts Rock The Texas Panhandle

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—Something shook up this area Tuesday but nobody seems to know what it was.

The tremor, accompanied by two distinct blasts, shook a large section of the Texas Panhandle and southeastern New Mexico.

The shock was felt in an area from 100 miles northeast of Amarillo to Roswell, N.M., 200 miles to the southwest.

Witnesses said houses swayed and they reported hearing unpleasant noises like trucks hitting buildings, horses galloping, and gas explosions.

The seismograph at Texas Tech College in Lubbock registered a slight motion. One at Southern Methodist University in Dallas didn't.

Senator Scott Speaker At Indiana GOP Dinner

INDIANA, Pa. (AP)—Sen. Hugh Scott, the only Republican to win a statewide contest last November, offers three recommendations to improve GOP chances in future elections.

They are: seek support from a broader cross-section of the electorate; get more young people active in the party; and develop the will to win.

Scott said Tuesday that a "wave of demoralization" caused heavy damage to the "Republican bid to win" in the last campaign and contributed to the defeat of statewide candidates.

He spoke at a Lincoln Day dinner attended by Republicans from Jefferson, Armstrong and Indiana counties.

County's Oldest Resident Dies at Age of 100 Years

Born more than 100 years ago and believed to hold the distinction of being Warren county's oldest citizen, Mrs. Lucinda J. Campbell, died at 7:35 p. m. Tuesday at Brennan-Root Nursing Home, Prospect street, where she had been a patient for the past three and one-half years.

The widow of John Campbell, who died January 26, 1943, she was a former resident of both Sheffield and Sugar Grove and, in earlier years, was a member of Sheffield Methodist church.

Mrs. Campbell was born in Brookville, Jefferson county, on May 8, 1857, and was united in marriage with John Campbell in April, 1882. They moved to Sheffield in 1916 and she had continued her residence in that community until she was admitted to the local nursing home in June, 1955, excepting only a few years spent in Sugar Grove.

One of the aged woman's most treasured possessions was a beautiful plaque, presented to her by the Medical Society of Pennsylvania, through Warren County Medical Society, in recognition of having attained the 100th anniversary of her birth.

Surviving her are a daughter, Mrs. Ida Eckman, of Sheffield; four grandchildren, Harry, Wayne and Thomas Campbell, of Warren, and Mrs. Lula Bayley, of Picture Rocks, Pa.; also 9 great-grandchildren and 11 great-great-grandchildren. Two sons, Harry and John, preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be held in Sugar Grove at 2:00 p. m. Thursday, with interment following in Cherry Hill cemetery at that place.

Funerals

MRS. JOHN BULICZ—Friends will be received at the Borden Funeral Home in Sheffield, starting at 2:00 p. m. Thursday. Arrangements for services are incomplete and will be announced later.

L. A. HOTCHKISS—Friends are being received at the Spitzer Funeral Home in Clymer, N. Y., from 2:00 to 5:00 and 7:00 to 9:00 p. m. today, and services will be held there at 2:00 p. m. Thursday. The Rev. Arva McGill, of Fairview, Pa., will officiate and interment will be made in Mina township cemetery.

County's Oldest Resident Dies at Age of 100 Years

Born more than 100 years ago and believed to hold the distinction of being Warren county's oldest citizen, Mrs. Lucinda J. Campbell, died at 7:35 p. m. Tuesday at Brennan-Root Nursing Home, Prospect street, where she had been a patient for the past three and one-half years.

The widow of John Campbell, who died January 26, 1943, she was a former resident of both Sheffield and Sugar Grove and, in earlier years, was a member of Sheffield Methodist church.

Mrs. Campbell was born in Brookville, Jefferson county, on May 8, 1857, and was united in marriage with John Campbell in April, 1882. They moved to Sheffield in 1916 and she had continued her residence in that community until she was admitted to the local nursing home in June, 1955, excepting only a few years spent in Sugar Grove.

One of the aged woman's most treasured possessions was a beautiful plaque, presented to her by the Medical Society of Pennsylvania, through Warren County Medical Society, in recognition of having attained the 100th anniversary of her birth.

Surviving her are a daughter, Mrs. Ida Eckman, of Sheffield; four grandchildren, Harry, Wayne and Thomas Campbell, of Warren, and Mrs. Lula Bayley, of Picture Rocks, Pa.; also 9 great-grandchildren and 11 great-great-grandchildren. Two sons, Harry and John, preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be held in Sugar Grove at 2:00 p. m. Thursday, with interment following in Cherry Hill cemetery at that place.

Many Programs Honoring Lincoln Planned in Nation

By The Associated Press

Observances honoring Abraham Lincoln today were the order of the day on virtually every level of American civic life.

President Eisenhower planned to attend a memorial banquet tonight in Washington. The President has proclaimed this year as Lincoln Sesqui-centennial Year.

Other celebrations marking the 150th anniversary Thursday of the birth of the Civil War President were planned throughout the week from coast to coast.

The NBC television network has prepared a film presentation of photographs and drawings of Lincoln during the Civil War years for 8:30 p. m. EST tonight.

Congress gets into the act Thursday when a joint session will be held. Carl Sandburg, famed Lincoln biographer, will give an address and actor Fredric March will read the Gettysburg Address.

The sesqui-centennial events began early this year and are scheduled to continue into summer.

Hodgenville, Ky., Lincoln's birthplace, was to be the scene Thursday of the first sale of the new one-cent Lincoln postage stamp.

Gov. A. B. Chandler of Kentucky will place a wreath on the door of the cabin where Lincoln was born Feb. 12, 1809. George Moore, executive assistant to Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield, will speak.

An international audience of some 20 ambassadors will attend a program Thursday night featuring a speech by Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin in Springfield, Ill.

All-Day Celebration Brings To End Annual Mardi Gras

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—With another Mardi Gras part of history, New Orleans put away its carnival atmosphere until next year. Today was one of solemnity as many in the city began observing the 40-day Lenten season.

The Mardi Gras season, which began officially 12 nights after Christmas and reached its climax Tuesday with an all-day celebration, ended officially at midnight.

Rex, King of Carnival, set off the festivities when he boarded his mobile throne and led his parade through the heart of the city.

From then on, anything went. Costumed participants jammed the main business section, roaming up and down streets cleared of traffic for the occasion.

Comus, the oldest of the Krewe, Tuesday night put on the final procession of the parade season, which began Feb. 1.

Many of the parade floats and onlookers were caught in intermittent showers. But even occasional heavy rains failed to drive many home.

The maskers ranged in age from a few months on. Almost every type costume imaginable could be seen and some were little more than imagination.

Two County School Dists. Approached for Jointure

James S. Tressler, director of school building bureau of Commonwealth's Public Instruction Department, has sent letters to four district schools, including two in Warren County, asking whether they desire to "participate in construction of additional facilities..." in the Bradford Area School Jointure.

The two county districts, Lafayette and Corydon township, have signified either they did not desire to enter the jointure or had no plans to do so in the immediate future.

Corydon township in McKean County informed Harrisburg that it would like to enter the recently organized Bradford Jointure. Fourth district quizzed, Lewis Run Borough, has made no reply.

Bradford school committee has engaged a Bradford architect for the proposed expansion to Bradford Area Junior High school building. Idea of Tressler's letters were to have the districts make up their minds before construction gets underway, because Commonwealth subsidized building aid is based on enrollment.

Budget Asks No Money For Nike-Zeus Missile

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Department of Defense spokesman says the budget asks no money for production of the Nike-Zeus missile because it is not far enough advanced.

The Nike-Zeus has been designed as a major defense against enemy intercontinental ballistic missiles.

W. J. McNeil, assistant secretary of defense, estimated the status of the Nike-Zeus Tuesday while replying to criticism by two Army generals.

Maj. Gen. William W. Dick Jr., special weapons chief, and Maj. Gen. Dwight E. Beach, air defense director, had told the House Space Committee Monday that the missile was far enough advanced to permit a start on production of some of its parts.

Female Disc Jockey Is Aiming at New Record

FOCATELLO, Idaho (AP)—Disc jockey Jo Warner started today by spinning a long-play record. She hopes to end it with a new record for non-stop broadcasting.

The 22-year-old announcer for radio station KYTE began her ninth day of broadcasting in a downtown music store. "I'm a little tired," she said.

She admitted her voice was growing weak after 180 hours—a mark she passed at midnight Tuesday. She hopes to keep up the wakeathon for 240 hours for the benefit of the March of Dimes.

Theme for Lincoln Anniversary Dinners

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans, hoping to borrow a page from their party's first president, announced this theme today for this year's Abraham Lincoln anniversary dinners:

"Emulate Lincoln's example of turning a '58 defeat into a '60 victory."

Republican National Chairman Meade A. A. Brown announced the theme in reporting that GOP speakers have been booked for more than 150 Lincoln sesqui-centennial dinners this month in 29 states.

Lincoln, who was born 150 years ago Thursday, was defeated in 1858 when he ran for the U. S. Senate but was elected in 1860.
